NOTES TO THIS TABLE: Heading of Political Representation rests on my subjective summation of how they were viewed by the workers, not on any objective role they may have played, although in most cases it is the same in my opinion. Under the heading of Slate I have designated them as follows Ray--Eugene Ray's ticket, (U)--Unity Slate, (PL)--the slate headed by Progressive Labor Party, (D-R)--The Davis-Richmond clique, although they did not run as a formal slate (JT)--James Thomas backed Davis for president but did not back Rodney Richmond and attempted to form his own slate in order to control the executive board. They did not put out any open literature identifying themselves as such. (I)--Independent campaign. Winners must have 50% plus 1; otherwise the top two vote getters went to a runoff held January 16. *Designates incumbent.
