Spring Author Appearances at Lambda Rising

We have a busy schedule of author appearances at our stores (also see our front page story on the annual "Finding a Baltimore Voice" reading series at Lambda Rising/Baltimore.) We begin on Wednesday, February 15 when Laura Argiri visits Lambda Rising/DC from 6 until 7 p.m. to read from and discuss her impressive new novel, The God In Flight. This is a Victorian novel about an illicit love affair between an young student from West Virginia who was raised by a pious reverend, and a professor, a Greek with his own troubled past, at Yale University. The book is a rich, provocative romance of early times in the tradition of Mary Renault and Marguerite Yourcenar, vividly evoking the times and feelings of people concerning love between men in clandestine romantic affairs.

Tuesday, February 21, local DC-area author Martine Rothblatt visits Lambda Rising/DC from 6 until 7 p.m. to discuss and sign her book, The Apartment of Sex: A Manifesto on the Freedom of Gender. Her premise is "There is no socially meaningful characteristic that divides humanity into two absolute groups, men and women." She makes a case for the adoption of a new sexual model that accommodates every pos-

Build Your Gay and Lesbian Library with New Titles from Lambda Rising!

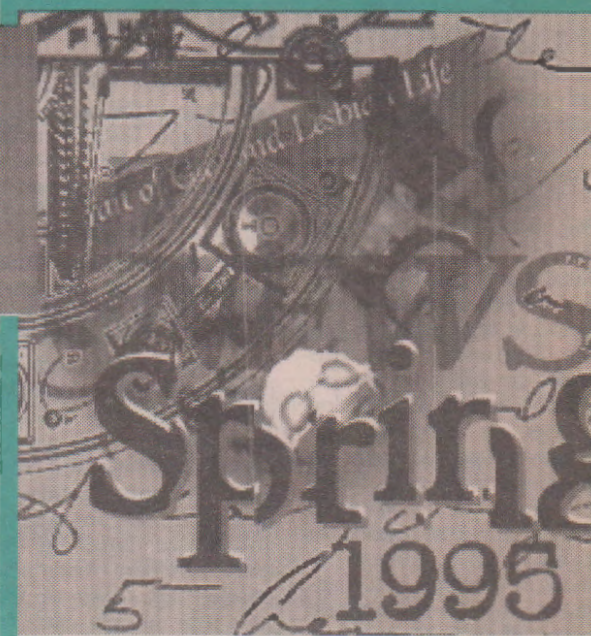

Spring is in the air again at Lambda Rising, and we're into another strong season of new gay and lesbian titles, fresh from the publishers. You'll find the a great selection of the latest new releases, bestsellers, and selected titles our staff recommends as building blocks for a good, basic gay and lesbian library. A lot of the strongest titles from last year are out this Spring in paperback reprints, along with a number of new titles that you should not miss.

One of the best biographies published this season is Diane Solway's Dance Against Time, the story of Edward Sterle, a young dancer with the Joffrey Ballet, whose life and rising career was cut short by AIDS. The bestselling Jeb and Dash is now available in paperback, and is one of the best "insider" looks at private life in Washington, DC during the early years of the 20th Century. (See Page 3.) Also new in biography this season is the biography of Philip Johnson, the Dean of American Architects, featured on page 4.

In our health and AIDS section, we've just received a new title from England, Safer Sexy, which continues in the excellent educational tradition of the sex ed. videos coming out of Britain now, like Getting it Right and The Gay Men's Guide to Safer Sex. (Videos featured on page 21.) This new book combines a strong safer sex message with photographs to present a striking and useful

Lambda Rising Features Annual "Finding a Baltimore Voice" Reading Series

Lambda Rising/Baltimore continues its tradition of celebrating Black History Month and Women's History month with a series of Sunday afternoon readings in the months of February, March and April, all featuring local Baltimore writers showcasing what is unique about the Baltimore writing voice.

This popular reading series features poets and prose writers from around the Baltimore/Washington, DC area who come together as individual artists and writing groups, and present what is best and unique about writing coming out of the Baltimore area. All Sunday afternoon readings will begin at the Lambda Rising/Baltimore store at 3:00 p.m. All readings at our stores are open to the public and refreshments will be served.

Celebrating Black History Month in February, each session will be preceded by a short reading of the work of the late Craig Reynolds.

The first reading will be Sunday, February 5, featuring Ben Walston, Lynn Distance, and Brian Lyles.

Sunday, February 12 will feature readings by Reggie Harris, Darrell Forney, and Monique St. Lawrence.

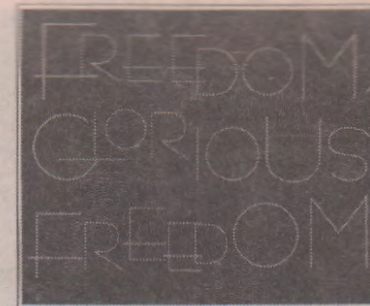

On February 26, James Earl Hardy visits our store to read from and sign his novel, B-Boy Blues, along with a reading by Gina Coffman.

During the month of March, Lambda Rising/Baltimore celebrates Women's History Month, beginning on Sunday, March 5 with readings by Kirsten Henriksen and Sandra Evans Falconer.

On Wednesday, March 8th, special guest author Patricia Nell Warren visits Lambda Rising/Baltimore at 8 p.m. to read from and sign her novel, Harlan's Race, the sequel to her best-selling novel, The Front Runner.

Sunday, March 12, a local writing group will be read-

THE SPIRITUAL JOURNEY TO THE FULLNESS OF LIFE FOR GAYS,
LESBIANS, AND EVERYBODY ELSE

John McNeill celebrated the launch of his new book, Freedom Glorious Freedom with an appearance at Lambda Rising/DC on January 23.

FREEDOM, GLORIOUS FREEDOM
THE SPIRITUAL JOURNEY TO THE FULLNESS OF LIFE FOR GAYS, LESBIANS, AND EVERYBODY ELSE
John McNeill

Completes his visionary trilogy of books on the saving power of God for gay men and lesbians. Through topics as diverse as 12 step programs, coming out, gay marriage, gay relationships, and his own life journey, McNeill shows how lesbians and gay men can achieve full spiritual maturity and self-acceptance, and reveals a welcoming vision of a world enriched by gay spirituality and love.

educational message that all sexually-active men should see. This book goes beyond "Editor's Choice" to "Must see."

The genre of AIDS writing continues to grow, and we feel that as a subset of fiction and poetry writing, it deserves separate recognition in our catalog pages. So, beginning with this issue, we will show the latest and best of AIDS fiction and poetry along with our health-related AIDS titles to present a more well-rounded response to what is being done in the fight against AIDS, both from medical research and treatment, and from artistic points of view. (Page 5.)

"What's old is new again" on our men's fiction page this Spring as we feature a set of very important paperback reprints of gay men's fiction that deserve a place in every gay library. This season we saw the reprint of works by Reynoldo Arenas, The Doorman, The Ill-Fated Peregrinations of Fray Servando, and Old Rosa, along with the reprint of Edmund White's classic gay novel, A Boy's Own Story. Also, the Lambda Literary Award-winning novel Living Upstairs by Joseph Hansen is back in a new paperback edition (see page 6.)

Library building is also the theme on our Spring Gay Studies page, featuring the book The Gay and Lesbian Literary Companion, which is an excellent reference book for an overview of the entire field of gay and lesbian literature. Also big this season is a new anthology of essays co-edited by Joan Nestle and the late John Preston, Sister and Brother: Lesbians and Gay Men Write About Their Lives Together. (See page 7.)

In women's fiction, we feature the works of three fine and diverse writers: Lesléa Newman has written across many genres from novels to short fiction, to how-to books on writing, and we've collected her most important work here on one page. Also, we feature four novels each by authors Doris Grumbach and Lambda Literary Award winner Jeanette Winterson. (See page 8.)

Editor's Choice on the women's studies page for Spring (see page 9) goes to Pat Califia for her controversial new book, Public Sex. This is one of the most thought-provoking collections of essays on sex in the nineties we've seen, and runs in the tradition of Califia's past work, pushing at the envelope to make us think about our own definitions of sex and sexuality, and what it means to be a sexual lesbian or gay man as we approach the next millennium.

In honor of Black History Month, we feature a full page of the best titles from our inventory covering African-American fiction and poetry, plus important contemporary biography such as We Who Believe in Freedom, the story of Sweet Honey and the Rock. And most important among the new releases on this page is The Collected Poems of Langston Hughes. This is another must-have book that should be on the shelf of every fan of Hughes, and every student of contemporary African American poetry. (See page 11.)

And if you are a fan of great poetry, check out page 18 for the latest new releases, including newly published works from our featured poets, May Sarton and Marilyn Hacker. Also, for good general introductions to gay and lesbian poetry, we have The Name of Love: Great Gay Love Poems and The Key to Everything: Great Lesbian Love Poems. Besides being filled to the brim with great poetic works from our history, the books are small enough to slip into a pocket and carry along to that special romantic rendezvous! And for all of you out there who have requested it, we have a special chapbook of ten poems by W.H. Auden called Tell Me The Truth About Love. This small collection includes the poem, "Funeral Blues" from the feature film, Four Weddings and a Funeral.

Movie Soundtracks are the name of the game with our Spring music collection (see page 19.) This season, we now have two recordings from the movie Philadelphia, both the original movie soundtrack featuring the hit single by Bruce Springsteen, and the original movie score, featuring the background music from the film. A great new find in the soundtrack section is something we're sure a lot of you have been waiting on for years: the soundtrack to the film, Victor/Victoria! Also, check out the "resurrection" of the rock opera Jesus Christ Super-Star, recorded by some of the top names in rock music, including Amy Ray and Emily Sillers of the Indigo Girls singing the parts of Jesus Christ and Mary Magdalene.

And don't forget our new gay gifts for the Spring season. We have LOTS of new items (see pages 22 and 23), including our exclusive new "Hate is not a family value" license plate frame, a great new bumper sticker—"The Christian Right is Neither"—and our new AIDS Ribbon wristwatches. We've added three new designs to our Pride flags: the pink triangle on a black background, the Christian Rainbow flag, and a new rainbow-patterned bunting that's great for decorating your floats at the next Pride Day parade! A ing together works created by the group. Members include Shirley Hartwell, Sue Jordan, Alice Aldrich, Mary Kintner, and Kathryn McHargue.

Sunday, March 19th, Teresa Palomar and Linda Richardson will be reading in the store, along with Linda Joy Burke and Natalie Towles.

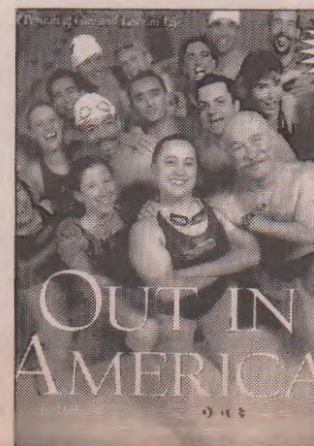

Sunday March 26, Lisa Gillespie visits to read from her work.

The series continues in April with more great local writers appearing in the store. On Sunday, April 2, Cliff Chase visits Lambda Rising/Baltimore to read from and sign his new book, The Hurry Up Song. On the same program, Jim Vitano and Jeff Maccubbin will be reading, with the program ending with Jack Garman, store manager at Lambda Rising/Baltimore reading his article from anti, Baltimore's new monthly from the underground up.

Rounding out the series on Sunday, April 9, we will feature Beat, Batworth, and Bob Smith reading from their work.

We will have an open mike after each of the Sunday afternoon sessions, so be sure and bring a sample of your work (any written work up to five minutes in length) with you to the readings! Please sign up at the front counter before the programs begin. A sible shade of gender identity. It reveals that male and female roles are dictated neither by genetics, genitals, or reproductive biology, but by social attitudes.

James Earl Hardy visits Lambda Rising/Baltimore on Sunday, February 26 at 3 p.m. to read from and discuss his novel, B-Boy Blues. Mitchell Crawford had always wished and dreamed for a Ruffneck, a hiphop loving, street struttin', crotch grabbin' brotha. And he finally finds one in Raheim Rivers, who is a vision of lust: six feet tall and 215 pounds of mocha-chocolate muscle. Mitchell knows Raheim will take him for a walk on the wild side, especially between the sheets. But he doesn't count on getting behind Raheim's mask and finding someone he can love.

Patricia Nell Warren visits Lambda Rising/DC on Tuesday March 7, from 6 until 7:30 p.m. and the following night, Wednesday, March 8, at Lambda Rising/Baltimore, at 8 p.m. To read from and sign her novel, Harlan's Race, the long-awaited bestselling sequel to her novel The Front Runner. After his young athlete lover is assassinated on the Olympic track in Montreal, coach Harlan Brown is forced to enter the race of his life, to survive the hate, violence and an unknown assailant which threaten his chosen family: Betsy, valiant lesbian mother, Vince, angry activist seeking revenge, Chino, Vietnam Vet with a wounded heart, and the secret child of Billy Sive.

Ending up our Spring author appearances, Clifford Chase visits Lambda

Rising/Baltimore on Sunday, April 2 at 3 p.m. to discuss and sign his new book, Hurry-Up Song: A Memoir of Losing My Brother. In 1989 Chase lost his older brother to AIDS. This stirring, multi-layered biography brilliantly recounts the impact of that loss. Chase ingeniously evokes the magical fantasy world that the two brothers share, the effects of their parents' Christian Science upbringing, the hand puppets whose staccato shrieks re-enacted their parents' arguments, and the profound ambivalence of family love.

All Lambda Rising author appearances are open to the public and refreshments are served. A

GERTRUDE STEIN IN WORDS AND PICTURES Renate Stendhal, ed.

This book includes more some 360 selected photographs of Stein, her companion Alice Toklas, and the many familiar and famous faces who surrounded her. These photographs, artfully matched with text from Stein's work and from letters and memoirs of those who knew her, make up a distinctive new portrait of the Mother of Modernism in the expatriate circles of 1920s Paris.

Algonquin Books
Paperback $19.95

JEB AND DASH A DIARY OF GAY LIFE 1918-1945 Ina Russell, ed.

Chronicles the life of a gay man from 1918 to 1945. A lifelong resident of DC, Jeb came of age as the 20th century did—witnessing political and social change from the position of insider as an employee of the government and as outsider. A large portion centers on Jeb's on-again off-again love affair with C.C. Dasham, whom he met in college and remained lifelong friends.

Faber & Faber
Paperback $14.95

A DIFFERENT PERSON A MEMOIR James Merrill

The memoir's central thread is Merrill's 30 month sojourn in Europe in the 1950s. After selling his first book of poems and meeting the love of his life, he soon feels constrained by his social circles and flees to Europe. Here we see his vivid encounters with friends, lovers, cities, art, opera, and a host of other activities. It is perhaps the most lucid and inward account we have of a homosexual life in a world of intellect and art.

HarperSanFrancisco
Paperback $14.00

FRIENDSHIP CHRONICLES LETTERS BETWEEN A GAY AND A STRAIGHT MAN Chris Hassett, Tom Owen-Towle

This book follows the men's twelve year relationship as well as earlier aspects of their lives through a series of letters. The book is both personal and universal in its exploration of friendship, sex, love, death, art, and music.

Bald Eagle Mt Press
Paperback $12.95

MARINA TSVETAIEVA THE DOUBLE BEAT OF HEAVEN AND HELL Lily Feiler

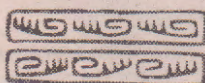

Hers is a story full of contradictions, resisting social and literary conventions but enmeshed in the politics and poetry of her time. She shows us a woman embodying the values of 19th century romanticism, yet radical in her poetry; supremely independent in her art, but desperate for appreciation and love; simultaneously mother and child in her complicated sexual relationships with both women and men.

Duke University
Hardback $34.95

W.H. AUDEN THE LANGUAGE OF LEARNING AND THE LANGUAGE OF LOVE Katherine Bucjnell, Nicholas Jenkins, eds.

Includes previously-unpublished poems, prose, and letters by Auden, each with a scholarly introduction and full annotation, which reveal how the well-known writer battled with his literary ancestors, experienced love, and devised a rhetoric to express both homosexual feelings and artistic impulses.

Oxford University Press
Hardback $29.95

SEASONS OF GRIEF AND GRACE A SISTER'S STORY OF AIDS Susan Ford Wiltshire

The story of Susan and her brother who died of AIDS. Drawing on the force of family bonds, she shows us two siblings sharing an agonizing but special journey, strength instead of defeat.

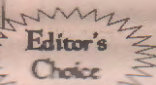

Vanderbilt University Press
Hardback $17.95

DANCE AGAINST TIME THE BRIEF, BRILLIANT LIFE OF A JOFFREY DANCER Diane Solway

This is the story of Edward Stierle's meteoric journey to stardom at the Joffrey Ballet. Growing up in Catholic working-class family in Florida, he struggled to overcome his short muscular body, the disapproval of his family, and dealing with his homosexuality. Performing with the Joffrey quickly established him, but at the age of nineteen, while on the rise in the dance world, he tested positive. He died on the eve of his 23rd birthday and the premiere of his second choreographed ballet.

Pocket Books
Hardback $23.00

OSCAR WILDE A LONG AND LOVELY SUICIDE Melissa Knox

A psychoanalytic biography of Wilde that explores the link between little-known childhood events and figures in his life and his psychological development. This book attempts to explain both Wilde's creativity and his self-destructive heroism.

Yale University Press
Hardback $25.00

LOVING GARBO THE STORY OF GRETA GARBO, CECIL BEATON, AND MERCEDES DE ACOSTA Hugo Vickers

In and out of bed with Garbo in the chic bisexual worlds of Hollywood, London, Paris, and New York. A little-known story based on unpublished letters and manuscripts, the stories of the three locations are woven together to form a portrait of a cosmopolitan world of complicated and passionate relationships.

Random House
Hardback $25.00

DEATH AND DISASTER THE RISE OF THE WARHOL EMPIRE AND THE RACE FOR ANDY'S MILLIONS

Paul Alexander

Six years after his death, Warhol's estate is valued at 220 to 700 million. The dispute continues between the Warhol Foundation and the estate that created it on what the artist's immense holdings are actually worth. This is a story full of startling revelations, shameless greed, secret deals, unholy alliances, and hidden treasure.

Villard Books
Hardback $23.00

MODERN NATURE

Derek Jarman

The third in his trilogy of memoirs, this book extensively covers 1989 and 1990 as Jarman battles his illness and tries to reconcile his art, family and friends to the new demon in his life. Jarman also discusses AZT, and his own dilemma with using such an experimental medicine. He also looks back over his childhood, his coming out, and his career in films.

Overlook
Paperback $13.95

THE TRANVESTITE MEMOIRS

Abbe de Choisy

This remarkable document in the history of transvestism provides a first-hand account of manners and morals in late 17th century French society. In a light and intimate style, de Choisy recounts his scandalous and entertaining escapades as a transvestite. Reared as a girl by his ambitious mother, the young Choisy dressed in girls' clothing, wore earrings, and was much admired by Louis XIV's homosexual transvestite brother.

Peter Owen
Paperback $18.95

LESBIANS AND GAYS AND SPORTS

Perry Deane Young

This volume tells of the often hidden, ignored, or forgotten story of sexual minorities in the world of athletics from the Olympics of the ancient Greeks to today's Gay Games.

MARTINA

Martina Navratilova

This honest, successful lesbian's life is underscored by determination, integrity and the ability to bounce back. The loss of her father, the invasion of Czechoslovakia, and her love affairs with four women are chronicled.

Fawcett
Paperback $5.99

HER NAME IS BARBRA

Randall Riese

A fascinating and often disturbing account of Streisand's life. Includes a first-time account of the abuse she suffered as a child, and an examination of her activism in causes from feminism to AIDS awareness. Her relationship with her son Jason is detailed, with many other intimate facts.

SMP
Paperback $6.99

PHILIP JOHNSON LIFE AND WORK

Franz Schulze

Weaves together the many strands of Johnson's complex personal and professional lives to give us an unprecedented portrait of the whole man. This book covers his life from his childhood as the only son of a wealthy Midwestern family, through his years at Harvard where he comes to terms with his homosexuality, to his flirtations with politics and his current position at the center of a circle of movers and shakers in the world of art.

Knopf
Hardback $30.00

NEVER STOP RUNNING ALLARD LOWENSTEIN AND THE STRUGGLE TO SAVE AMERICAN LIBERALISM

William Chafe

Lowenstein was a pivotal figure in the great battles of his era: he was at the forefront of the fight against racism and the Vietnam War at a time when liberalism came under attack from both radicals and conservatives. This book is a chronicle of liberalism at the barricades and a gripping story of a man desperately seeking internal peace while dealing with his homosexuality.

BasicBooks

GERTRUDE STEIN REMEMBERED

Linda Simon, ed.

Takes us past the public image to a more intimate view of this remarkable artist. A collection of memoirs by twenty people who knew her well, it adds invaluable details to our view of Stein as a writer and woman. The recollections, some previously unpublished, cover the entire span of her career.

University of Nebraska
Hardback $20.00

MARGUERITE YOURCENAR INVENTING A LIFE

Josyane Savigneau

Here, in its intricate and often contradictory detail, is Yourcenar's story, one in which loss and learning intertwined almost from the first, and in which love kept a strangely paradoxical place. An avid seductress of women, she spent nearly 40 years with one woman, but also fell in love with two men, and whose most memorable protagonists were gay males.

University of Chicago

GAY AND LESBIAN POLITICS
SEXUALITY AND THE EMERGENCE OF A NEW ETHIC
Mark Blasius

Blasius contends that being gay or lesbian is, by definition, political. By extension, the phenomenon of a movement founded on collective identity is a quintessential part of American politics. The continually rising public consciousness of the needs and interests of gays and lesbians provides Blasius with a vehicle for showing how a particular aspect of human life comes to assume political dimensions. Draws from works of political philosophy, and gay and lesbian studies.

ABOUT COURAGE

Mickey C. Fleming

The saga of a child trapped by the circumstances of his birth and how the city of Washington, D.C. directed his upbringing. It is filled with energy, kindness, insight, and laughter, but strewn with the seeds of social disintegration; an explanation, of the genesis of "the Black Underclass." An exciting account of how stumbling blocks can be turned into stepping stones.

OUT! TO LEAD Gideon Ferebee

Ferebee does more than explain and define the historical and current paranoia of our homophobic society as created and perpetuated by the dominant white male infrastructure. Initially, the reader senses his deep anger and frustration, as an African American homosexual, at a system which essentially aims to eliminate his kind. However, as his ideas unfold, he exposes the blatant and subtle hypocrisies inherent in every stratum of American society.

THE SOUL MATE BOOK FOR GAY AND LESBIAN PEOPLE

Michael

Dispels many of the attitudes about sexual orientation that have made life in our society painful for homosexuals and heterosexuals alike. Michael helps the reader realize that those who pass judgment on sexual orientation are actually placing a great burden on themselves, because to judge another is to take responsibility for his or her lifestyle. He discusses how our incarnation determines our lifestyles, the hidden causes of human nature, taking charge of your life, loving your body, the magnetism of joy. Finally, he describes the manifestation technique he teaches people to use in order to bring their soul mates to them.

TAKING A CHANCE ON GOD

John J. McNeill

A book of spiritual advice for gays and lesbians that shows how scripture and tradition support the love between homosexuals. He reflects here on the joys and challenges of being a gay or lesbian Christian. Expelled in 1987 from the Society of Jesus, he continues to argue that sex, even between people of the same gender, can and should be integrated into a religious life.

Beacon Press
Paperback $13.00

THE CHURCH AND THE HOMOSEXUAL

John J. McNeill

Father McNeill updates his classic book which argues for a new understanding of the spiritual rewards experienced in loving gay and lesbian relationships. This edition adds a new foreword in which he calls on the Vatican to make a public act of repentance for its homophobia.

WORD IS OUT

THE BIBLE RECLAIMED FOR LESBIANS AND GAY MEN

Chris Glaser

Glaser reinterprets the Scriptures and gives Christian gays and lesbians comfort rather than condemnation, pleasure rather than pain. Each day's meditation begins with a brief Bible selection and includes insightful words of reflection along with a short prayer/affirmation. This book is a joyous celebration of gay and lesbian spirituality.

HarperSanFrancisco
Paperback $12.00

JESUS ACTED UP

A GAY AND LESBIAN MANIFESTO

Robert Goss

Gay activist and former Jesuit priest Robert Goss brilliantly unites a celebration of "queerness" with the principles of liberation theology to present an unapologetic challenge to the homophobia of the churches. This provocative manifesto rejects the imperial Christ of institutional religion and embraces the radical activist Jesus of the Gospels, a Jesus who is an advocate of radical political action: He is anti-establishment, as "queer," as any ACT UP member.

Antique Erotica

GAY EROTICA FROM THE PAST VOL. 1

These previously hidden underground films from the 1940s and 1950s, reveal just how mysterious and secretive we were behind those closed doors. Now we can acknowledge our sexuality...but then our sex acts were not to be spoken of, much less seen! Short films include "Cyclist," "Beach Bar Nightmare," "Ben-Hurry" and "Cell Mates." Running Time 75 Minutes.

VHS $29.95

GAY EROTICA FROM THE PAST VOL. 2

Our early sexual history was played out against a backdrop of repression, illegality, and fear. These films from the 1940s and 1950s, and only recently rediscovered, are an essential chronicle of our past. Films include "Call Me Stud," "Tim and Jim," "Marble Illusion," and "Snow Body." Running Time 75 Minutes.

VHS $29.95
