Winter is the perfect season
to "warm up" with books and gifts from Lambda Rising!

The winter books are upon us now, but it's anything but cold at Lambda Rising! Inside this issue of Lambda Rising News you'll find a selection of the best new titles for the end of 1995...a little something for curling up by a warm fire...for sneaking off to a nice, warm beach to catch that January tan...and of course, something for everybody on your Gay Holiday shopping list!

The film Jeffrey has been the big hit of the fall season, and we're pleased to offer in this catalog the script of the stage play on page 13, and the original soundtrack album from the movie on page 18! Also, if you've been spending a lot of time in the theater and want to read more about it, check out Jim Carroll's

Basketball Diaries on page 8.

We've not forgotten our television viewers, either: AbFab is finally here! We have the behind-the-scenes book about Absolutely Fabulous, the tremendously popular British television comedy series featured on page 13, plus the entire first two seasons on video tape on page 20. Order early, sweetie-darling!

Also in this issue we feature books on gays in the workplace (see page 3.) This is a new and growing subject area for us at Lambda Rising, and our books on this topic include everything from information about employment law and civil rights to guides to the most gay and lesbian-friendly companies in the

VIRTUAL EQUALITY

THE MAINSTREAMING OF GAY & LESBIAN LIBERATION

URVASHI VAID

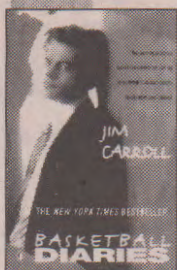

VIRTUAL EQUALITY

Urvashi Vaid

With visionary politics and hard-earned pragmatism, Vaid tackles the questions: Where should the movement go? What do we want? Vaid defines the current status of gay America as one of "virtual equality," a state of conditional equality based more on the appearance of acceptance by straight America, rather than actually civil equality. She argues that despite significant gains in mainstream visibility, gays and lesbians continue to lead lives as second class citizens, demoralized and persecuted. She issues a call-to-arms to the gay and lesbian community to begin work necessary to achieve real and lasting equality with the rest of America.

This issue of Lambda Rising News is also filled with many great gift suggestions. At the top of our list this season is a special gift set of Adrienne Rich's poetry collection, Dark Fields of the Republic (see page 15), which includes both the book and a special tape featuring the author reading her work.

For our George Baxt mystery fans, his latest adventure with sleuth Pharoah Love is on page 14, A Queer Kind of Umbrella. And if you're introducing your friends to this marvelous series, on the same page, we're featuring the paperback edition of A Queer Kind of Love. Together, these two books make a great gift set combination!

And don't forget to decorate your house for the holidays! We have a whole line of gay holiday ornaments on page 22, including Santa as a body builder (!) and cherubs dancing under a rainbow. We're sure there's something here for everyone on your list, from gay pride screen savers for your Windows-based computers to David and Venus refrigerator magnets, and our special new item: Q Cologne, designed for gay men, by gay men.

And it's going to be a busy season for author appearances at Lambda Rising, too. We have a full schedule of authors visiting us, all the way up to the Thanksgiving holidays when we settle in and gear down to get ready for the crush of holiday shoppers. Visit our stores for these appearances, or call us at 1-800-621-6969 number to reserve copies of autographed books to fill out your holiday gift list.

We also feature regular author appearances in our online store on America Online. Drop by the store there (keyword: GAY-BOOKS) and see who's coming online that you can chat with live, in one of our regularly-scheduled online conferences.

Wednesday, November 8 at 6:00 p.m., Naomi Tucker visits Lambda Rising/DC to discuss and sign her book, Bisexual Politics: Theories, Queries, and Visions ($14.95); This book is a landmark anthology chock-full of contemporary bisexual thought from the Bi movement's movers and shakers. This is an ideal book for those questioning or curious about bisexuality. Naomi Tucker will be on hand as well as three contributing authors who include Loraine Hutchins, Elais Farje-Jones, and Sun Frog.

Thursday, November 9 at 6:00 p.m., famed author and biographer Edmund White will visit Lambda Rising/DC to discuss and sign copies of his new book Our Paris: Sketches from Memory ($22.00). White and French artist Hubert Sorin offer a lighthearted, gently satiric portrait of their favorite people and places in and around their neighborhood, the Chatelet. While the authors were completing this work, Sorin was nearing the end of his battle with AIDS.

Saturday, November 11 at 8:00 p.m., Mabel Maney visits Lambda Rising/Baltimore to read from and sign her hilarious novel, Nancy Clue & The Hardly Boys: Ghost in the Closet ($10.95); This book continues the author's funny romp in the gosh-golly world of teenage serial mysteries of the 50s. The super sleuths join forces to find the Hardly Boys' parents who have been kidnapped while searching for secret rocket ship plans stolen from NASA. Don't miss it!

Monday, November 13 at 6:00 p.m., Peter Jackson visits Lambda Rising/DC to discuss and sign his book, Dear Uncle Go: Homosexual Males in Thailand ($15.95); This is the first systematic study of homophobia in non-homophobic Thailand. Jackson's sources include translated letters from gay men writing to an advice columnist, "Uncle Go," appearing in a nationally-circulated mainstream publication.

Saturday, November 18 at 3:00 p.m., Alison Bechdel visits Lambda Rising/DC to discuss and sign her new comics collection, Unnatural Dykes to Watch Out For ($10.95); An immensely successful cartoonist whose books depicting lesbian life have amused audiences all over the country, this is her latest in the adventures of Mo and Thea and friends.

Thursday, November 30 at 6:00 p.m., Davida Singer visits Lambda Rising/DC to read from and sign her new collection, Shelter Island Poems ($11.00); Seven years ago this poet discovered Shelter Island, which renewed her link with nature and served as a catalyst for a deeper spiritual journey. Shelter Island continues to be a harbor. Davida Singer teaches writing and English as a Second Language, and does theater journalism for "The Villager" and "The Downtown Express". Her poems have appeared extensively in journals, and she has read her work throughout the New York Metropolitan area.

All author appearances at Lambda Rising are open to the public. Refreshments will be served.

Mail order customers can order autographed books from any of our upcoming signings. Your order must be placed at least 24 hours before the signing. Call 800-621-6969 to place an order.

QUESTION OF EQUALITY
LESBIAN AND GAY POLITICS IN AMERICA SINCE STONEWALL
David Deitcher, ed.

This book accompanies the public television documentary series of the same name—which aired in October 1995, investigating the central challenges that confront the lesbian and gay civil rights movement in the United States. This book exceeds the scope of the series with archival and contemporary photos, works of art and poetry, comic strips, and essays by Jewelle Gomez, Mab Segrest, David Deitcher, and Dale Peck—with a forward by Armistead Maupin.

GAY AND LESBIAN
PROFESSIONALS, THE HARVARD
BUSINESS SCHOOL, AND THE
AMERICAN WORKPLACE
Annette Friskopp, Sharon
Silverstein

The men and women who discuss their experiences in this book talk about such issues as harassment, discrimination, health and insurance benefits, resources and support groups, and the differences of gay men and gay women. This book talks about closeted people and people out from the first day on the job.

SEXUAL ORIENTATION IN THE WORKPLACE

GAY MEN, LESBIANS, BISEXUALS
& HETEROSEXUAL
Amy J. Zuckerman,
George Simons

This workbook contains three main parts. First, it examines who makes up the workforce with regard to sexual orientation, and considers the facts about gays, lesbians, bisexuals, and heterosexuals. Second, it provides simple tools and exercises to address the personal dimensions of working realistically and effectively with diverse colleagues. Finally, the book explores how leaders, groups, and organizations can set a positive climate and establish policies that support all workers.

GAYS/JUSTICE A STUDY OF ETHICS, SOCIETY AND LAW

Richard D. Mohr

Philosopher and openly gay professor Richard Mohr breaks new ground with this timely new book that will prompt Americans to consider whether they have consistently applied their basic values to lesbians and gay men. With insight and wit, Gays/Justice argues for the extension of basic civil and constitutional rights to gays and for gays' acceptance within America's social tapestry.

Columbia University Press
Paperback $14.00

CREATED EQUAL WHY GAY RIGHTS MATTER TO AMERICA

Robert Dawidoff, Michael Nava
The authors argue that the movement for gay equality is central to the continuing defense of individual liberty. Beginning with an examination of the determined assault on gay issues by the religious right, the authors show how this sectarian movement to legislate private religious morality into the laws of the state undermines the foundations of republic and assaults the purpose of American constitutional government: the protection of the individual's right to determine how best to live their lives.

PSYCHOANALYSIS AND MALE HOMOSEXUALITY

Kenneth Lewes

This book is an account of how male homosexuality has been viewed—and sometimes misconstrued—by the psychoanalytic tradition, from Freud through the 1980s. In his survey, Lewes reveals how the original psychoanalytic ideals of understanding and compassion have been betrayed by clinicians and theorists. This book is a sometimes shocking account of intolerance and hostility. But it is also the story of unexpected sensitivity as it explores the possibilities—as well as the limits—of psychoanalysis as a humane science.

OVER THE RAINBOW MONEY, CLASS AND HOMOPHOBIA

Nicola Field

The achievements of the lesbian and gay movement are beset by contradiction. Many people are visible in the media, on city streets, and in gay clubs, cafes and bars. However, conservative governments have fostered a vicious backlash, and gays remain under attack. Field cuts through the infighting to analyze the splits and divisions in the movement, and the connections between economics and homophobia. This book sets out a new agenda for resistance, firmly rooted in the politics of class.

DIANA A STRANGE AUTOBIOGRAPHY Diana Frederics

This book originally published in 1939, presents Diana as the unexceptional daughter of an unexceptional plutocratic family. During adolescence, she finds herself drawn with mysterious intensity to a girlfriend. Diana becomes horrified by the possibility of her "perversion." The book follows her through college, a trial marriage that proves she is incapable of heterosexuality, intellectual and sexual education in Europe, and a series of lesbian relationships culminating in a triangular struggle with two other women.

JAMES WHALE A BIOGRAPHY Mark Gattiss

The true story behind Christopher Bram's fascinating novel "Father of Frankenstein." James Whale was complex and private man whose film directing career—cut short by a blindered studio system—included "Frankenstein" and "The Invisible Man." A witty and acidic personality, his macabre sense of humor raised his films far above the mainstream of the time. He was the first 'out' film director, and thus the first victim of Hollywood homophobia. Based on exclusive interviews with friends and associates, this book examines Whale's rise and fall as a director and his chosen role as Hollywood's outsider.

FAVORED STRANGERS GERTRUDE STEIN AND HER FAMILY

Linda Wagner-Martin

In this book we find Gertrude Stein as we have never seen her before: as a member of her German-Jewish patriarchal family, as an undergraduate at Radcliffe, as an odd sort of feminist, as a medical student, as a lesbian and a lover, as a war survivor, and much more. This biography looks at her relationship with two of her older brothers—Michael and Leo—that shaped her emotional existence just as her commitment to writing shaped her intellectual life.

I, PIERRE SEEL, DEPORTED HOMOSEXUAL Pierre Seel

As a young man in France, Pierre was rounded up by the Germans for appearing on a list of accused homosexuals. In the internment camp, he recognized his lover—just as the Nazis were about to execute him. Pierre was "liberated" and sent to the Eastern Front as cannon fodder for the Germans. He survived, but when the war ended, he had to deny his past experiences and invent a story of what happened to him in order to keep a cover on his homosexuality.

HOW MANY YEARS A MEMOIR

Marguerite Yourcenar

This book is devoted to Yourcenar's father's side of the family and introduces us to a remarkable gallery of ancestors: canons and matriarchs, statesmen and scoundrels, merchants and artists. The hero is her father, Michel de Crayencour, who educated her and encouraged her literary ambitions. She describes his youth, his desertions from the army, his many affairs and three marriages, his ruinous gambling, and his vagabond spirit.

A.D. Millet, Kate

Kate Millet's Aunt Dorothy, called A.D., was wealthy glamorous, and a leading figure in St. Paul society—young Kate in particular was bewitched by her. Millet's brilliant portrait of A.D. is a dialogue between student and teacher, artist and patron (it was A.D. who gave Kate the money to attend Oxford). It is also the story of growing up gay in the 1950s America, when Kate had to lie to A.D. in order to study at Oxford with her first woman lover. It is a book about love, about the secret role of money in families, and about the great Irish divide.

WORKS ON PAPER

1989

Keith Haring

Keith Haring's chalk drawings in the New York subways had made him a star by the time he was 25. Haring was motivated by a deep sense of social responsibility: His populist energy and bold graphic pictorial language spoke not just to the art world but to everyday people from people of all races, sexual orientations, and economic classes. These drawings and collages here are among his last works.

ORAL TRADITION

Jewelle Gomez
Taking their inspiration from the author's African American and Native American storytelling heritage, these are poems of finding home, making love, learning history. They tell the tales of women and satisfaction, regret, love, danger, death, and eternal life. They are, like the narratives passed down from one generation to the next, meant to be reinvented and heard aloud.

DARK FIELDS OF THE REPUBLIC

Adrienne Rich
This gift box includes a hard-bound book and a cassette. In Adrienne Rich's major new work, her explorations go to the heart of democracy and love, the historical and present, and the endangerment of both. The poems are a theater of voices: of men and women, the dead and the living, over time and across continents. She writes out of conversations actual and imaginary, actions taken for better or for worse, out of histories and songs, humdrum and terrible events, out of the most intimate loves and love for the world.

CALLED OUT

The Voices and Gifts of Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, and Transgendered People
Jane Adams Spahr, Kathryn Pethig, Selisse Berry, Melinda V. McLain, eds.

This is the genesis of thirty-nine stories, sermons, poems, essays, and letters, to the Presbyterian Church. Within these covers you will read the stories of women and men who have been called by God to serve the ministry in the Presbyterian Church. They have been challenged, blocked, and denied their pursuit of God's clear call on their lives because of their sexual orientation. These are their words: their anger, despair, their hope, their dreams, and their call for justice.

KALI'S CHILD

Jeffery J. Kripal
The nineteenth-century Bengali mystic Ramakrishna played a major role in the development of Hinduism and is regarded as a modern saint. He remains an enigma to followers unable to reconcile his saintly status with his eroticized language and actions. Kripal shows how the heterosexual structure of Tantric symbolism, the abusive way its rituals were forced upon the saint, and Ramakrishna's own homosexual desires came together to produce in him profound feelings of shame, disgust, and fear. Kripal establishes that the homosexuality of this great, if unwilling, Tantric mystic is linked to virtually every aspect of his life and teachings.

TAKING A CHANCE ON GOD

John J. McNeill
A book of spiritual advice for gays and lesbians that shows how scripture and tradition support the love between homosexuals. McNeill, the author of "The Church and The Homosexual", reflects here on the joys and challenges of being a gay or lesbian Christian. Expelled in 1987 from the Society of Jesus, he continues to argue that sex, even between people of the same gender, can and should be integrated into a religious life.

PRIDE FLAGS

Now in six sizes and seven designs! The rainbow flag is perfect for a parade or for flying at home. The rainbow flag has been adopted as the gay and lesbian flag and is flown during pride day and other festivities. The 4x6 inch cloth "rainbow" and "pink triangle" flags are also excellent for parades, and for brightening up your desk. Small flags are mounted on a stick.

GUESS WHERE I'M PIERCED

I want to be Barbie, the Bitch has Everything!

Sorry I Missed Church. I Was Busy Practicing Witchcraft & Becoming a Lesbian

Our Rainbow Wind Socks are made from the same weather-resistant nylon fabric as our flags. Great for hanging on your porch, boat, patio, or balcony. Put them in those sun-catching spots where they can fly free in the breeze and show your colors with pride! Two sizes available: Small (40")... $16.00 Medium (60")... $20.00

New!

Our newest design! The Gay Nation flag is composed of the colors of the triangle, plus a field of pink triangles on a blue background. The new symbol of our community!

1018...Gay Nation Flag (3'x5').....$39.95

As seen during the 1993 March on Washington, this unique flag combines the Nation's "Old Glory" with the "Rainbow Pride" colors of the lesbian and gay community. The stars are embroidered (not just printed on!) and all our flags are double-stitched for long-lasting outdoor use.
