

IN OUR OWN WRITE

a monthly newsletter by the
WASHINGTON AREA WOMEN'S CENTER
september 1978

WOMEN'S COMMUNITY RESOURCES

Here it is at last: the long-planned-for special organizations issue of In Our Own Write. Seventy-three organizations, businesses and individuals providing services and activities are listed. For your convenience, we have arranged them into general categories: arts, businesses, education/employment, health, media, political, religious, services, social, and sports.

Most of the groups defy such distinctions, however. As the questionnaires have come back, I have marvelled continually at the number and variety of our activities as women. How few of these organizations were flourishing ten or even five years ago! Our organizations resist categorization, they transcend limits. Does DES/Washington come under health, political, or service? Is the Ja Shin Do Academy business, health, or sports? Where women serve themselves, a powerful force is at work.

This listing is long but nowhere near complete. It must therefore be as dynamic as the groups it features. It is not too late to return your survey form if you have not yet done so. If we did not reach you the first time around, then make yourselves heard now. We hope to publish more group descriptions as we receive them, perhaps with a general update in a year or so.

And you, the Washington area woman who picks up this issue--let us know what you think. Are the categories helpful? Is the information of use? Who is missing? Your feedback and criticism will be most welcome by those who have lived with this issue for months, spurred onward by the support coming in from Women's Center staff and the women who took time to fill out the surveys. Thanks to you all! Send comments to: In Our Own Write, 1709 Kenyon St. N.W. Washington, DC 20010.

STATEMENT OF PURPOSE

The Washington Area Women's Center is a nonprofit, nonpartisan organization whose primary purpose is to serve all women of the Washington metropolitan area. The concept of the Center is woman-defined and guided by the needs of the women's community. We are creating an environment in which women can expand themselves outside the male-defined structures which prevail in our society today.

The Center believes in a positive Woman Image and firmly believes in the need for womanspace. Through alternative support services, women can realize their potential strength and valuable self-image. Because women are in a period of transition and have special problems which are not usually dealt with specifically or completely by other community agencies, we feel we should provide an information clearinghouse to give coherence to all services available to women; to provide physical facilities, educational and artistic programming, and referral and information services to members of the D. C. women's community.

The structure of the Women's Center encourages all members to participate and direct what happens here. We hope you will join us. Membership entitles you to several advantages, which are detailed on the back of this sheet.

WELCOME TO THE WOMEN'S CENTER!

As you may know, the Women's Center has been forced to vacate its old space in Sumner School Basement. Several of our activities have, as a result, had to be curtailed until we find a new home. The phone will be connected again on June 30, 1978, and the newsletter In Our Own Write will continue to come out every month with articles, poetry, announcements of events of interest to women, etc. Call us for further information about activities and our continuing search for suitable space!

MEMBERSHIP ENTITLES YOU TO:

1. Take advantage of the referral listings available in the areas of health, employment, housing, and community organizations.
2. Receive the Washington Area Women Center's monthly newsletter, In Our Own Write, the most comprehensive publication of news and announcements about feminist organizations and events in the area.
3. Participate in classes, workshops, rap groups and sports teams sponsored by the Center. Join or start various projects or groups focusing on counselling, health, recreation, and entertainment.
4. Use the facilities of the Women's Center, which are available for meetings, groups or social occasions on a first-call, first-serve basis.
5. Volunteer and participate in the workings of the Women's Center. Members are encouraged to take an active part in the Center's operations.
6. Receive discounts at Women's Center-sponsored events.
7. Check out books from our small (but growing!) feminist library.
8. All the good feelings that come from supporting a vital part of the women's community!

Your new or renewed membership in the Center at this time is particularly welcome as support and encouragement for the Center's continued existence.
