According to latest news, the military dictatorship of the Shah in Iran through its notorious secret police (SAVAK), has once again begun to intensify its oppressive reign of terror. A group of Iranian revolutionaries who for long were under constant torture, have recently been sentenced to death by Shah's military court.

In this period of Iranian history, when anti-imperialist and democratic movement of the Iranian people has placed as its number one task to overthrow the reactionary puppet regime of the Shah in Iran, and to expell all imperialist forces, we are witnessing an ever-increasing emergence of revolutionary fighters who place their lives on the line in order to defend the interests of Iranian toiling masses. The revolutionaries sentenced to death are good examples.

In serving world imperialism and reactionary classes in Iran which it represents, the regime of the Shah has constantly maintained the most despotic attitude against the opposition. The mildest criticism of the regime is followed by a brutal repression. The military dictatorship has violently responded to any just demand by workers, peasants, progressive intellectuals, clergy and students....

There are well over 40,000 political prisoners in the Shah's dungeons. The most destitute living condition prevails in Iran. The cheap labour and natural resources for which imperialist forces crave for, is supplied by puppet regime through a systematic policy of repression and exploitation.

The economic disorder, repression, and lack of concern for the lives of toiling masses and although the continuous efforts by revolutionary organizations has increased the anti-imperialist and democratic struggle of the people from all sectors. This opposition has been manifested by increasing working strikes, peasants' uprising, opposition from student and progressive religious sector and revolutionary organizations against the Shah's regime.

The numerous revolutionary underground organizations and elements have set unprecedented heroic examples in their struggle against the fascist regime of the Shah in Iran. Few examples of these revolutionary organizations are: People's Fedayeen Guerrilla Organization, Iranian People's Mojahedeen Organization, Palestine Group, Peoples Liberation Organization of Iran, and many many others.

The I.S.A. in harmony with the struggle of the Iranian people has always waged a resolute struggle against the Shah's regime and will continue till the complete overthrow of the reactionary classes, expulsion of all imperialist forces and the establishment of people's democratic rule in Iran.

TO oppose the fascistic measures taken against above mentioned revolutionaries sentenced to death by reactionary regime of the shah, the ISA has staged protest demonstrations and hunger strikes in major cities of U.S. the hunger strikes will continue till our demands are met.

We invite all anti-imperialist forces and elements to support ISA's hunger strike which started here in Washington D.C. on January 3, 1976.

DROP THE! DEATH SENTENCES NOW!

LONG LIVE THE REVOLUTIONARY STRUGGLE OF IRANIAN
PEOPLE. DOWN WITH THE SHAH, DOWN WITH U.S. IMPERIALISM
